AUNT JEMIMA'S PLASTER,

OR

Sheep-skin Bees wax No. 2.

Aunt Jemima she was old, but very kind and clever;
She had a notion of her own that she would marry never;
She said that she'd live in peace, & none should be her master;
She made her living day by day, in selling of a plaster.

CHORUS.

Sheep-skin and bees wax made this awful plaster;
The more you try to get it off,
The more it sticks the faster.
Sheep-skin and bees wax made this awful plaster;
The more you try to get it off,
The more it sticks the faster.

She had a sister very tall, and if she'd keep on growing,
She might have been a giant now in fact there is no knowing.
All of a sudden she become of her own height the master,
And all because upon each foot Jemima put a plaster.
Sheep-skin and bees wax, etc.

There was a thief night & day kept robbing of the neighbors,
But none could find the rascal out, with all their tricks & labors.
She set a trap upon her step, and caught him with a plaster,
The more he tried to get away, the more he stuck the faster.
Sheep-skin and bees wax, etc.

Her neighbor had a Thomas cat, that eat like any glutton;
It never caught a mouse or rat, but stole both milk and mutton.
To keep it home she tried her best, but ne'er could be its master,
Until she stuck it to the floor, with Aunt Jemima's plaster.
Sheep-skin and bees wax, etc.

Now if you have a dog or cat, a husband, wife, or lover,
That you would wish to keep at home, this plaster just discover;
And if you wish to live in peace avoiding all disaster,
Take my advice and try the strength of Aunt Jemima's plaster.
Sheep-skin and bees wax, etc.
